EUROPEAN DEVELOPMENTS

- The European Commission played an active role during the current crisis. First, a Communication on assessment of state of play of the Communication on non-essential travel was released on 8 April 2020. On 16 April, the Commission presented a guidance document on implementing relevant EU rules on asylum and return procedures and on resettlement in order to ensure the continuity of procedures and the respect of basic rights. Also, on 8 May the Commission invited Member States to extend the restriction on non-essential travel to the EU until 15 June. A few days after, a phased and coordinated approach for restoring freedom of movement and lifting internal border controls to engage Member States in a process of reopening unrestricted cross-border movement within the Union was presented. In the same line, on 29 May the Commission encouraged Member States not to consider the periods of stay of third-country nationals caused by COVID-19--related measures as illegal stay in the EU.
- As the COVID-19 pandemic situation improved, the Commission recommended partial and gradual lifting of travel restrictions to the EU and adopted as guidance on resuming visa operations. Through this recommendation the Commission encouraged Schengen Member States and Schengen Associated States to lift internal border controls by 15 June and to prolong the temporary restriction on non-essential travel into the EU until the end of June.

SPECIAL UPDATE: COVID-19 (The full version can be found here)

- The area of legal migration experienced additional changes during the reporting period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Seventeen Member States (AT, BG, CZ, EE, EL, ES, FI, FR, HR, IE, IT, LU, LV, PL, PT, SI, SK) extended deadlines to apply for permits or speed up the procedures. The channels for applying were modified in eleven Member States (AT, CZ, EE, FI, FR, IE, IT, LT, MT, PT, SE) so applications can be submitted online or through pre-booked appointments. Seven Member States (CY, FR, IE, IT, LT, MT, SK) have resumed procedures for granting international protection/asylum and three Member States (CY, IT, LV) reported to have established protective measures affecting applications procedures. Lastly, Austria eased the requirements needed during immigration procedures for safety reasons while Finland reduced the fees required to apply for permits. Due to the Coronavirus pandemic consequences, the Finnish Immigration Service granted a permit for approximately 8 700 seasonal workers from outside the European Union.
- In the area of unaccompanied minors (UAMs) and vulnerable groups, two Member States (AT, FR) transferred minors to alternative facilities in which protective measures are observed. Italy suspended solidarity programs of temporary protection of minors, but specific forms of national solidarity were organised by institutions, associations, families and parishes, offering hospitality, for a maximum of 120 days, to minors who come from specific countries and who find themselves in specific situations.
- Regarding international protection (including asylum and resettlement), thirteen Member States (BE, BG, CY, DE, IE, IT, LU, NL, PT, SI, SK) reported having adopted protective measures aimed at preventing the spread of COVID-19 during the procedures. FR organized sheltering measures for all persons without accommodation and implemented the extension of the validity for allowances for asylum seekers. In the same line, seven Member States (BE, EE, IE, IT, FI, MT, PT) suspended partially or completely the procedures and interviews (PL – the procedures were ongoing, however, interviews were suspended for a while). Belgium and Malta encouraged the use of telematic means to apply or do paperwork. Six Member States extended relevant permits or certificates due to COVID-19 (AT, FR, IE, IT, LU, PT) while residence permit operations were resumed completely or partially by eight Member States (BG, CY, DE, FR, LU, MT, NL, SI).
- Deadlines and requirements for certain courses and modules due to be completed for integration purposes have been eased in Austria and France, suspended in Spain and Luxembourg, and transformed into online courses (LU) or other alternatives in France, Luxembourg and Malta. Three Member States (AU, IE and PT) have started information campaigns about COVID-19 in different languages to be able to reach migrants in their native languages. Economic support for struggling businesses and individuals has been provided in Estonia, Italy and the Czech Republic. Lastly, local administrations and NGOs have put in place integration projects in Poland.
- The management of the Schengen borders and the EU external borders has been strongly influenced by the pandemic. Eleven Member States (AT, CZ, CY, EE, FR, HR, LT, PL, PT, SI, SK) reported to have eased travel restrictions that were put in place during the lockdown and seven Member States (AT, CZ, CY, EE, LT, LV, SK) implemented different security measures depending on the country of origin of incoming travellers.
- The way in which authorities tackle irregular migration and return has been greatly influenced by the limitations on air traffic imposed by the measures implemented to stop COVID-19 from spreading. Nine Member States (DE, EE, ES, FR, HR, IE, MT, PT, SK) reported to have suspended or limited return operations due to the current situation while Luxembourg and Latvia pushed deadlines to apply for permits to avoid putting third country nationals in an irregular situation. Luxembourg extended the deadlines for the renewals of permits that expired or the legalisation of stay if the short-stay visa exceeded 90 days.
- Belgium resumed return operations after deconfinement started. Italy put in place measures aimed at increasing surveillance while Portugal implemented protective measures at detention centres.
- Finally, the external dimension of the migration policies of some Member States has also been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. The Czech Republic and Hungary redirected international funds to help third countries struggling to cope with COVID-19 and Estonia called for the creation of a digital platform that could help to match innovative solutions to the needs of partner countries in terms of dealing with the COVID-19 crisis.
